(NYSE American: AZTR), a clinical stage biopharmaceutical company focused on developing innovative therapies for precision dermatology, today announced that it intends to convene its upcoming 2026 annual meeting of stockholders (the "2026 Annual Meeting") scheduled for June 4, 2026 at 11:00 a.m., Eastern Time, and then immediately adjourn proceedings, without conducting any other business. Azitra intends to reconvene the 2026 Annual Meeting on June 15, 2026 at 11:00 a.m., Eastern Time (the "Reconvened 2026 Annual Meeting"). The Company has determined to adjourn the 2026 Annual Meeting to allow additional time for stockholders to receive and submit their proxy materials, as a result of a minor administrative delay in mailing.

Stockholders will be able to listen and participate in the virtual annual meeting, as well as vote and submit questions during the live webcast of the meeting by visiting www.proxydocs.com/AZTR and entering the control number included in their proxy card. The proposals at the Reconvened 2026 Annual Meeting will be the same as those at the 2026 Annual Meeting.

Azitra encourages eligible stockholders as of the record date of April 24, 2026, who have not yet voted their shares on the meeting proposals, or are uncertain if their shares have been voted on, to contact their broker or bank to vote their shares. The Board of Directors and management of the Company request that these stockholders consider and vote their proxies as soon as possible on the meeting proposals, but no later than June 15, 2026, at 10:59 a.m. Eastern Time.

Stockholders who have previously submitted their proxy and who do not want to change their vote need not take any action.

As described in the 2026 Annual Meeting Proxy Statement, stockholders may use one of the following simple methods to, prior to the Reconvened 2026 Annual Meeting, vote their shares, or change their previously submitted vote, no later than June 15, 2026, at 10:59 a.m. Eastern Time with respect to the proposals:

About Azitra

Azitra, Inc. is a clinical stage biopharmaceutical company focused on developing innovative therapies for precision dermatology. The Company's lead program, ATR-12, uses an engineered strain of S. epidermidis designed to treat Netherton syndrome, a rare, chronic skin disease with no approved treatment options. Netherton syndrome may be fatal in infancy with those living beyond a year having profound lifelong challenges. The ATR-12 program includes a Phase 1b clinical trial in adult Netherton syndrome patients. ATR-04, Azitra's additional advanced program, utilizes another engineered strain of S. epidermidis for the treatment of EGFR inhibitor ("EGFRi") associated rash. Azitra has received Fast Track designation from the FDA for EGFRi associated rash, which impacts approximately 150,000 people in the U.S. Azitra has an open IND for its ATR-04 program in patients with EGFRi associated rash. The ATR-12 and ATR-04 programs were developed from Azitra's proprietary platform of engineered proteins and topical live biotherapeutic products that includes a microbial library comprised of approximately 1,500 bacterial strains. The platform is augmented by artificial intelligence and machine learning technology that analyzes, predicts, and helps screen the library of strains for drug like molecules. Azitra is also developing its proprietary flaggrin protein and peptide technologies for the consumer, cosmeceutical market. The new initiative is the first amongst others, which aims to leverage Azitra's microbial genetic engineering platform to manufacture innovative proteins and peptides for the cosmetic and research markets.
